WHO IS ACTUALLY SLEEPING???

What is your hobby dear? Veda answered READING. Krishna answered READING. John answered WRITING & READING. Swetha too answered READING. Yes, all the school and college students are ready to answer their hobby as READING. Actually what is Reading? How to Read? Where to go for Read? What to Read? Students need to be aware about all these questions and answers. Most of the students considered reading their textbooks are enough. They conditioned only with this sort of reading and accepted this version of reading is perfect for their life. It's been three great years I spent in St John's College, I never saw a huge thirsty readers in the college library. Sometimes I got surprised why my amigos skip such pure heaven? Why they are not ready to taste such beautiful souls? Why no one is able to know different signatures by great authors?

It is very difficult to start reading but once we start, it is a magic world. For me I am thankful to my grandmother and parents who made me to read. Still I remember every Tuesday I jumped into my grandmother's lap for to read Kalikudukka and then I waited for early Friday mornings waiting for paperboy for getting Balarama. I completed my favorite section reading and step into school. All these interest may lead me into a literature Life.

Last month when I sited in college library and felt that a huge lives are waiting for readers in every bookshelf.
All the books are sleeping.....no All the readers are sleeping.

Who is actually sleeping?
Did anyone will wake up?

Survival...

Hard to survive in this world ?
No matter how short are you; how long are you,
You be in the pleasant green world.

Your roots are well fortified in this world,
Hard rocks and spear cannot demolish you,
You be in pleasant green world.
Born up with sanguine and valiant in this world,

No matter how the climate affects you,
You be in pleasant green world.

IV. Campaigns

1. Save Chenkurinji Campaign

Chenkurinji (Gluta travancorica), is a species endemic to the Agasthyamala Biosphere Reserve, and inspired the name of the Shendurney Wildlife Sanctuary. In order to preserve this species, a drive was initiated by Punalur forest division. In association with the department of Environmental Science, saplings were planted in the college premises.
